EINSTEIN formulates theory of RELATIVITY. He is 50% right and 50% wrong. The whole part of his theories in general includes his opinion, that ETHER does NOT EXIST, or more precise that "ETHER according to the theory of relativity is NOT NEEDED". Einstein was, and IS, wrong, because his [mathematical] premises are wrong. There is NOTHING but ETHER, Mister Einstein, and we shall become more and more AWARE of it, because more and more ETHER is pouring into our Solarsystem. SCIENCE argued until not so long ago, that there can be no ether, penetrating dense bodies, because this ether would hinder the bodies [planets etc.] to move as they move. Poor SCIENCE. Again they are trapped in their thought forms about the nature of matter, and that matter ALWAYS has to be ATOMIC. Matter, dear friends, can be and IS, as well NONATOMIC, which is the case with ETHER, subdivision of AETHER, child of MÜLLERPLATZ-TE. Ah, yet they [science] are unconsciously, right: ETHER and LIGHT do hinder the heavenly bodies in their movements through space, as is and KNOWLEDGE has to lead again.

WHY EINSTEIN WAS WRONG.

Agreed, there was a Big Bang and there shall be a Big Crunch. Or: Once [about 150 trillion years ago] there was a cosmic explosion [caused by an ABSTRACT emanation] followed by the appearance of the Universe itself with all its heavenly bodies and their life forms in and on it. And "soon" [in about 150 trillion years] there shall be a "big crunch" or IMPLORION, causing all heavenly bodies and their life-forms to disappear again - first into thin Ether and then... into the ABSTRACT. And soon [in about 500 trillion years from now] there shall be a new Big Bang followed about 311,040,000,000,000 years later by another Big Crunch and so on without beginning and with no end. But all these Big Bangs and Big Crunches were, are and shall not be caused by any Einsteinian laws; far from that: what Einstein, though being a very religious man, did not know, was, that there is a SPIRITUAL POWER or MONAD behind each speck of matter, behind each ATOM, in fact CAUSING this atom, and causing all temporary physical manifestations - be it of a mouse or of a Solar system. But in order to understand the laws of the physical world you have to study the law of its SPIRITUAL CAUSE. For instance: Every Monad is individually different causing always an individually different Atom and Molecule even if they seem to belong to the same chemical family which indicates that there are not two planets or Solar systems being the same in our Cosmos. In other words: A physical law like Newton's "gravity" cannot be applied in another Solar system than ours [Not to mention the fact that it does not even exist in OUR Solar system]. It is because of the ROOTSPIRIT * for the first time revealed in its complete Esoteric-kabalistic-hierarchical order IN THE BOOK OF LIGHT. * which itself is just... SUB-MONADS expanding in ROOTMATTER [first abstract, then Ethereal, then "dense"] that the material Universe appears - first abstract, then ethereal, then dense. Therefore: In order to understand the ONE LAW ruling the physical Universe with everything in it you have to study its CAUSE or the LAW under which THIS CAUSE, the Rootspirit, expands on all cosmic planes. What Einstein and others did [and still do] is to get lost in the detail of a physical atom, which, by the way, nobody has ever seen until today. Glory to THE BOOK OF LIGHT, Saviour of mankind. The laws claimed by Einstein are at best just effects but never Causes. But even as effects it does not compute. E does not equal $m \cdot c^2$. Or: Energy does NOT equal the product of the mass and the square of the velocity of light. Equation 5 does not compute. In order to fully understand that, we have to analyze equation 5, which I shall do later. For now just this much:

-1220/4-

Einstein knew little about energy, TRUE energy [which is more in ETHER than on our physical plane], but the little he knew was enough to convince Roosevelt to develop the atomic bomb. But the law controlling an atomic chain reaction, controlled or uncontrolled, is, like everything else on the physical plane an illusionary effect, caused by immature children, who call themselves scientists, by bombarding a nucleus with particles. To deduct from such an event any such things as gravity, mass or velocity is pure assumption. Gravity, for instance, does not even exist, no matter how often you might have fallen on your nose. Energy is an entity, gravitation does not exist and velocity or speed, square or not square, has its own sublaws which differ in each Solar system, not to mention the INVISIBLE planes [Thought-speed, etc.]. Fortunately orthodox Science [having no other choice] tends more and more to enter the territory of Esoteric Science. They have faint glimpses that there might be more than what they see through their microscopes, that there might be another world beyond the visible, an abstract INVISIBLE world yet more real because lasting and eternal like the Spirit in us. No, E does not equal $m \cdot c^2$, not even in our Solar system. E is SOMETIMES $m \cdot c^2$ but this condition is but one aspect of [even] a sum total of physical laws, though they all emanated from ONE AUM. But these conditions [$e = m \cdot c^2$] change constantly. To say that $e = m \cdot c^2$ is like saying that George Bush rules America. It is like saying that the peas in a soup equal the pea soup. The peas are not the pea soup and the pea soup is not the peas. There is only ONE law, and it is ABSTRACT and now reawakened in THE BOOK OF LIGHT. Glory, Glory. Even Einstein can benefit from that knowledge, because the Book of Light can be read in Heaven [for enlightenment] AND in Hell [for liberation]. May orthodox science soon find its way back to the safe haven of ESOTERIC SCIENCE now reborn in THE BOOK OF LIGHT. What or who, then, is

-1220/5-

* and George Bush does not rule America, like Cancer of the body cannot rule the spirit.

-1220/6-

Einstein? A mediocre egghead promoted by a superiority-proclaiming Zionist movement? Not at all. Einstein was overshadowed by a high Deva angel, who tried its best to get this message through: It is the ABSTRACT and INVISIBLE, which is the eternal cause for all temporary visible and physical manifestations. The answer is: Reincarnation. Einstein shall get it, if not in his next life, then in the life after that and so forth. And it is so easy to understand. The visible is born from the invisible [yet existent]. For instance: In 1911 Charles T. P. Wilson completed the first cloud chamber for observing nuclear particles. From then on they all [the scientists] stared at these particles like little children at a Christmas tree, analyzing each particle to death, not knowing that these particles are physical symptoms of an astral cause. Where do they come from?

-1220/7-

From the Astral plane, from where everything else comes. The appearance of particles in the cloud chamber is nothing but a materialization of energy from ASTRAL into PHYSICAL. And in order to understand the true nature of these manifested, or manifesting, particles you would have to study and to understand the true nature of the ASTRAL PLANE as taught in THE BOOK OF LIGHT. This shall happen by itself in some thousand, or so, years. Then mankind shall begin to develop Astral sight. Then we, or maybe still just some selected seeds, shall see the Astro-Etheric counterpart or aura of everything. When that happens Science shall develop instruments and techniques of a sensitivity just dreamt of today. Then, FINALLY, they shall begin to accept the Astral plane as the VISIBLE cause of everything and for a long time they shall commit the error of thinking that the ASTRAL is the ONLY cause of the physical. Oh Lancelot, to US Mūlaprakṛiti is ABSTRACT but to BRAHMAN it is as real and DENSE

* or Ethereal sight.  The root cause of every plane is Mūlaprakṛiti.

-1220/8-

as physical matter is to us now. AUM. Once they discover the existence of the Astral plane, they shall develop machines to tap that eternal inexhaustible source of energy. Unfortunately the abuse of this power is programmed. THE BOOK OF LIGHT shall then rule mankind and be a [hopefully] successful WARNING. But why wait so long? Why not benefit from The Book of Light right now? That would require a) the study of The Book of Light by each scientist, as a matter of fact by EVERYBODY, who is interested in reestablishing peace on earth through KNOWLEDGE. b) the acceptance by orthodox science that there IS an astro-etheric plane* and c) the construction of instruments and machines of HIGHEST SENSITIVITY, having the ability to reach with one pole into the ASTRO-ETHERIC plane and to transform that powerful inexhaustible energy down into our physical world. *though mainly created by US...

-1220/9-

Is, or was, Einstein all wrong? Not at all. Everything [and not only according to Einstein] is relative. This is maybe the most Esoteric Truth of all, but it was never thoroughly understood. What I am saying is: The whole Universe with everything in it [visible and invisible] is not even existing. It is just a STATE OF CONSCIOUSNESS created by UNIVERSAL MIND [or Mahat] and our mental and emotional reaction to it. E is not $m \cdot c^2$. Does the Book of Light stand alone with that opinion? Not at all. FINALLY, and for the first time, Science AGREES that Einstein was wrong. A supercomputer at Cornell simulated the Big Crunch, when everything [visible and invisible] shall collapse in one point, and the computer discovered, that when this happens, it "produces a result which is not possible according to Einstein's theory of relativity, which says in a nutshell* that different observers moving at a constant speed with respect to each other, find the laws of physics to be identical. But Space, Time and Matter do not behave as Einstein thought, because Einstein did not have the ESOTERIC key to what Space, Time and Matter really are. To add insult to injury the vultures of the new sophisticated Computer-Science now attack the decaying image of Einstein with quotations like "Einstein's theory was as bad as his haircut" - "you mean E doesn't equal MC squared? Maybe E equals MC cubed? Or perhaps E equals MC Hammer?" Now that relativity [and orthodox science in general] turns out to be a scam* who knows what might happen tonight? "...but there's something unsettling about learning that our fundamental expectations of how the universe should behave is bogus." "Even though I never understood relativity, there was always some comfort in knowing that Einstein did." etc., etc.. [Dan Gutman, Daily News, Friday, April 12, 1991] article researched by Sakti Yovannone. Then Gutman continues: "It [Einstein's theory] never hurt anybody. Nobody was ever killed in a car crash because they miscalculated velocity versus acceleration." I certainly do not agree *with a few exceptions.  Einstein's theory.

* although Einstein is right to show time and space as inseparable and interdependent. But it is time and MATERIAL space that are inseparable. On the Astro-Etheric plane that relation changes.

with that. Orthodox science has caused until now a great deal of harm to mankind by choosing the Aristotelean method and proceeding in their analysis from the particular to the general, instead, like The Book of Light teaches, from the GENERAL to the particular. Thus they would have discovered that there are many Sevenfold cosmic planes, each with its PARTICULAR kind of energy and elements, but ALL of these planes emanate from ONE abstract source. All these energies [or states of consciousness] are just waiting to be used in a peaceful way and for the good of mankind and not just as it is now, for the ruling class. Oh Lanoo, live the life, and you shall attain the knowledge. AUM. E is not MC^2 , tis true; Einstein was wrong. But so is the Supercomputer at Cornell, because it is just a stupid machine, fed by scientists who themselves do not have the Esoteric key, answer and correct definition to what energy, matter, and velocity really are. They are in truth, STATES OF CONSCIOUSNESS of an entity expressing itself through ENERGY, MATTER and VELOCITY. Blavatsky's SECRET DOCTRINE made it clear for a few, The Book of Light shall reveal it to all: There is no God*, but there is one LAW, containing or proclaiming [when inactivity] many spiritual powers. These powers brought us forth. If you decide to worship them, go ahead. They never asked you to do so. I suggest to you, to STUDY THE LAW and to follow it, or, even better: to let THE LAW* guide you. You can't be any safer. May The Book of Light enlighten our Minds and Hearts. AUM to wisdom and knowledge.

One of the [occult] reasons why they have not yet [re] invented machines that could tap the astro-etheric plane is, that these machines would, or could, do harm to our Astral and Etheric bodies...

EQUATION FIVE, and why it does not work.

-1220/13-

the explosion of the first atomic bomb at Alamogordo, New Mexico, on July 16, 1945. It is true that the energy of an object increases [on the physical plane] with its velocity. It is also true that a heavier object has more energy than a lighter object, supposing both move at the same velocity which, by the way is the reason why a heavier man can knock out a lighter man, without necessarily having to hit faster or with more velocity than the lighter man [and his punch]. But that does not result in $E = mc^2$. Let us again look at the interpretation of $E = mc^2$. It is such that if a mass of ANY substance is converted to energy, without any mass being left over, the amount of energy obtained is given by this equation. For example, if the mass of a pound of coal is inserted under m into the equation - thus

- and the appropriate units were used, the equivalent energy is or would be about 30,000,000,000,000,000 foot pounds! This is about almost as much as the total amount of energy currently generated by all the power stations in the United States in one month! Thus even just a teaspoon of coal dust would supply enough energy in this way to drive our largest ocean liner from New York City to Europe and back many times. Burning the coal is of course a less intense use of energy since it just literally "scratches the surface" of the coal while the nuclear reaction method goes deep into the very atom of the coal, splitting it. In other words: A pound of coal when undergoing a nuclear reaction of its atoms releases about 3 BILLION times more energy than when the same pound of coal would just be burned. $E = mc^2$ is just a TEMPORARY effect appearing during for instance a nuclear reaction as well as during a punch received by a heavy weight or lightweight. But $E=mc^2$ is NOT an absolute equation that you can apply everywhere in the universe. WHAT then is the law under which a nucleus split in "two" explodes in or during a nuclear or atomic chain reaction or explosion? It is the law of COHESION being inherent in the Monad. It is the Monad which holds the Atom together. Without Monads there would be CHAOS or a constant nuclear reaction in space. Once a Monad or Spiritual power unit takes over, the atom is attracted around that Monad. Or: The, or each, Monad holds the, or each, atom together with a certain power of COHESION. Each Monad executes a different power on each atom. Action equals reaction. At a nuclear reaction the atom explodes or disintegrates rapidly with THE SAME ENERGY WITH WHICH IT WAS HELD TOGETHER BY THE MONAD. Or: Mona-for sure not to a meteorite moving away from the sun with its tail first...

-1220/16-

dic cohesion equals atom explosion. $E=mc^2$ would be there, as already mentioned, a temporary by-product but NEVER a LAW. I almost feel a kind of embarrassed compassion when smashing Einstein's theories with the hammer of Esoteric Knowledge, but it has to be done. AUM. Glory to THE BOOK OF LIGHT.

The error of equation 8, or: EINSTEIN'S THEORY OF GRAVITATION and his "experimental proof".

"Isn't it mysterious?" asked Einstein once "A freely falling object always falls toward the Earth. How is that possible for the Earth without literally reaching up and grabbing the object? The air does not help because objects are also pulled to the Earth even when they are in a vacuum!" Einstein was right and did not even know it. The Earth is reaching up and grabs the object - with ELECTROMAGNETISM generated by the [faster] rotating inner Magma-core of the Earth and not, as Einstein thought, by gravity. Equation 8, being $F = \frac{Gmm'}{d^2}$ was Newton's equation but accepted by Einstein, with the difference in the way a planet rotates around [and with] the sun. Einstein was right about the fact that the planet's orbits were ellipses, and that these ellipses were not stationary, but were slowly rotating in space.

*Thus the correct UNIVERSAL formula would be: $E=MC$ or Energy equals Monadic Cohesion. AUM.

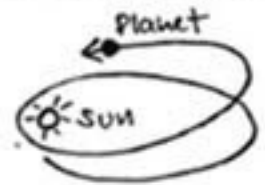

-1220/17-

Newton's orbit

Einstein's orbit **

Einstein was right but you can not apply this fact to $F = \frac{Gmm'}{d^2}$, because the reason for the planets rotating around the sun is not Gravitation but Monadic attraction [cohesion] and... KARMA, which works thus: Action = Reaction. The planets rotate around the Sun of their solar system because they have a personal relationship to each other and to the Sun. To say that equation 8 is that relationship is like claiming that the trunk is the elephant. The reason why Einstein's general theory of relativity does not work is, because they also call it "Einstein's theory of gravitation." But gravitation does not exist. Einstein thought it did, which led to the error of equation 8: $F = \frac{Gmm'}{d^2}$ which is only slightly different from Newton's law of "universal gravitation": $F = \frac{Gmm'}{d^{2.00000016}}$ concerning the nonstationary elliptic movement of a planet around the sun, leading to a rosette pattern. Here now the death stroke to Einstein's theory, executed by the Book of Light. If the law of gravitation rules the planets rotating around each other or and the sun, why don't they fall into the sun? Or why don't they simply drift away from each other? Shoot a satellite into space [and orbit] and watch what happens. Does it stay in orbit? No. Sooner or later it either falls down to Earth or drifts away from it into the eternity of space or into the electromagnetic field [and not gravitation] of another planet. Why then don't we fall into the sun or drift away from it, if the sun exerts a gravitational pull? Why is the moon still where it is? For the same reason that a wife is with her husband, or a mother with her son, or a sister with her brother [until that relationship is over - be it through death or fight]. Planets and suns are physical bodies of spiritual powers. That is why they rotate around each other. Einstein had to fail with his theories because he did not possess the ESOTERIC KEY or solution to the problem. Glory to the Book of Light. One error leads to another. For instance. The nearest planet to the sun is MERCURY, having an extremely flat orbit, but highly elliptical, with a rotation which therefore can be easily detected. Mercury is the planet with the greatest orbital velocity around the sun. Its total rotation of orbit is about 574 seconds of arc per century. But we shall see how even an error can lead to a correct conclusion or assumption. Science for instance thinks that the rotation of Mercury is due to gravitational effect of other planets. Their computations showed them that 531 sec. are due to the gravitational effect of other planets. What about the remaining 43 seconds? There was no other planet. The French mathematician Leverrier showed, or assumed, that this excess [43 sec.] of amount of rotation would be produced if Mercury was being influenced by another planet between Mercury and the sun. The astronomers looked and didn't find any planet. But this planet nevertheless exists and its name is hidden in The Book of Light. Again: A wrong premise led to a correct result. But that is as if somebody sees two pair of shoes at a hotel room door, thinking: 'Two people are in there'. An hour later he sees THREE pair of shoes, thinking 'There must be a third person in there.' But it could as well have been the same person putting out a second pair of shoes. By the way, Mercury is not closest to the sun because of any gravitational pull but because of its [planet angel's] wisdom. As to Einstein: The insanity is complete when we see orthodox science stating that, if the gravitational pull or attraction of the sun on the Earth wouldn't be so strong, THE RADIATION PRESSURE OF THE SUN'S RAYS WOULD PUSH US [Earth] OFF INTO SPACE. * * * Having gone so far they tamper with light itself, claiming that by building a photon trap you could weigh a beam of light and because that is not possible light or the photons must be weighed in flight!! Of course [they add] only theoretically, which is, according to them, not difficult at all.

* Force = Gravitational constant x mass of an object x mass of the Earth [or of another object] / distance between the two objects.

-1220/18-

* James A. Coleman, American International College, Springfield, Massachusetts 01109. September 1968
* resulting in a stronger attraction of Gabriel [planet angel of Mercury] to Raphael [planet - or CENTRAL STAR angel of Sun] than for instance from JEHOVAH [Earth] to Raphael!

And the rest of the world stands with its mouth wide open ready to swallow everything. What I like about science-fiction writers is that THEY at least admit that it IS science fiction. Another absurdity proved by nothing is, that the sun's mass is over 330,000 times greater than that of the Earth and that the gravitational pull at the sun's surface [!] is about 27 times that of the earth's surface. Show me the surface of the sun! So obsessed was Einstein with his theory of gravitation that he even thought that LIGHT RAYS could be bent by gravitational pull. This is true and not true. Light is ether in vibration, and this vibrating ether reacts to any other etherical condition, for instance the [etherical] atmosphere of a planet. Then the "light ray" is slightly "bent". But in no way "Light is deflected by a gravitational field", because a gravitational field does not exist other than in the imagination of Einstein and his devotees. But when your name is Albert Einstein and to its "light" [or etheric vibrations]. Science would think that two light rays cross each other, thus causing deflection. * * * But fields of attraction and repulsion do exist. * * * There is no gravitation.

You can get away with anything. Here now is Albert Einstein's theory of how to weigh a beam of light*.

The beam of light most of course come from a star. The procedure for weighing it is illustrated in the following graphic.

Fasten your seat belts: The initial position of the star A, whose light is to be weighed [I have a problem staying serious] is shown in (a). There are no intervening gravitational masses¹, so the star's light travels in a straight line from the star to the observer on Earth. Later on, the Earth has traveled sufficiently far in its orbit so that the sun comes between the Earth and a star in such a position that the light from the star just grazes the sun's surface [there it is again] on its way to the observer on the earth as in (b). But here is a diffi-

* correct, there are no gravitational masses-period.
* The Book of Light teaches us that visible light is ether moving along an abstract line [True Light]. The line, or True, Light cannot be bent, but the ether can temporarily be pulled from its path along that abstract line, which is REAL LIGHT. AUM.

culty encountered, for if the star's light is just grazing the sun's surface, the observer will not be able to see the star since the sun's light will be too bright. The only solution is to observe the star's light grazing the sun during a total eclipse of the sun when the moon blots out the sun's light completely, as illustrated. For this reason Einstein suggested that this effect be looked for during a total solar eclipse. Since the deflection of the star's light while grazing the sun is so slight, precise photographic techniques are necessary. The actual procedure consists of photographing the star while in position (a), showing its position relative to its neighboring stars, and then again at a later time during a total solar eclipse as in (b). In this latter position, it will appear to the observer [and his camera] that the star is at the apparent position A'. A picture taken at this position is compared with that of position (a).

The comparison should show that the star appears to have moved, provided that the sun's mass has deflected the star's light. This deflection would be [according to Einstein's prediction] 1.74 seconds of arc for a light beam grazing the sun's surface.

Why this is just a theory and shall always stay one following Einstein's theory of gravitation as well which mass? The sun has no mass.

as of the weight of light and its claimed reaction to gravitational pull of for instance, a star we would have to conclude: Any star would become literally invisible if it would be massive enough to attract the sun's or a sun's light by gravitational pull. It would thus swallow the light so that it could not leave the star and reflect, for instance on the eye of an observer thus making the star visible. My computations show that any star with more than 400,000 times the sun's mass would fulfill this requirement. If such a star would exist you would not see him [according to Einstein] no matter how far away or near it might be. This result led orthodox science to the conclusion that such a huge star would be a light-swallower appearing to us as a BLACK HOLE. But this is not true. A black hole is an energy center of differentiation called Laya around which a new planet [first etheric-fiery then dense] is born. Again I say: A light ray cannot be bent by gravitation because a) Light rays do not exist and b) gravitation is not existing.

From now on the thing gets completely out of hand. Once he had [in accordance to Newton] established that stars do exist, but they are no light-wall-breakers, but light-or better-ether breakers. We do not see them because they break the light into another direction away from our eyes.

five which was an expression of THE MONAD in him. Time is nothing but the period, or kind (or intensity) of attention the Monad dedicates to planes other than its own. For instance: When the Monad (or that part which reflected from it) in you withdraws, your time is up. It is thus the INDIVIDUAL way a Monad reflects into matter, or from timelessness into time, which results in the phenomenon of slower time processes on larger masses. The larger mass has nothing to do with it. It is already an effect, together with the slower time process. It is the individual way the Monad or the Monads pay attention to the lower cosmic planes, which results in effects declared to be causes by Einstein. And since there are endless many individual ways of a Monad to reflect onto all lower planes, there are endless many phenomena in the material AND spiritual world. But they are altogether effects, results, not initiating causes. How can you discover this true cause, which is the individual way of the monad to reflect into the lower planes? Only when your THIRD EYE would be in full action which is the case with initiate. AUM. Constant study of The Book of Light shall lead to the same result. But even the initiate knows that he does not know, he - call it Svabhavit.

cause he does not [and never will] know Para Brahman. A hint as to the Monads: When they build a certain formation, combined with their individual way of reflecting, they cause matter, atomic matter, of a certain density on the physical plane and slower [compared to others] time processes are an inherent property like the wetness of water. To say that large masses cause slower time processes than smaller masses do, is like claiming that water is wet because it is water. That is not true. The wetness of water is, together with the water, a material effect caused by a monadic impulse. That impulse, if anything, has to be analyzed and discovered. Thank God mankind does not have the key to the monadic kingdom. We, including this solar system, would not be here by now. Let us say two people meet in Devachan [hopefully] or on an astral plane after death, and let us further assume that they died a "natural" death or when their monadic impulse was over and the monads had withdrawn. The two astro-bodies would say: I lived 40 years, I lived 80 years [for instance]. Or their surviving friends would make that statement. But when the two main monads of the two deceased would meet on the monadic plane, one Monad would say: "I did...." and the other Monad would say: "I did....". I imagine if I would be able to tell you what they did [other than to withdraw]. That would be the key to life and death of man and universe. Never would the Lipika [Lords of Karma] allow such a thing. AUM.

One of the most tragic errors of Einstein had to do with the relativity and nature of the universe. He called it relativistic cosmology. The error laid in his definition of what is one-, two-, and three-dimensional. First his analysis of these terms.

The one-dimensional world [s].

Finite and bounded

Finite and unbounded.

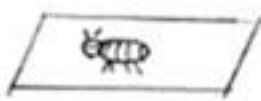

Assume there was a one-dimensional bug living in a one-dimensional world, being here a piece of a straight line on which he is confined. He cannot move sideways or up and down but only backward and forward, and our one-dimensional bug can't keep on going in one direction [because the line ends] his world is said to be FINITE and bounded.

-1220/30-

Now put the bug on the perimeter of a circle. He can still move backward and forward but not to the sides. However, he can move, without ever being stopped by any barrier. His world is now UNBOUNDED and INFINITE.

The two-dimensional world [s].

Finite and bounded.

Bug on a sphere
Finite and unbounded

Confined to the surface of a square, the bug can move in any direction backward, forward and also sideways. But he cannot move off the surface. His world is therefore finite. And because the bug can't keep going in a straight line through the edges of the square, his world is bounded.

But put the bug on the surface of a sphere and don't permit him to leave the surface, then you can see that his world is finite and unbounded. Put him on an infinitely large flat plane and his two-dimensional world will then be infinite and unbounded.

One scientist wrote: "What a boring world such a two-dimensional world would be. Everything about people would always be flat, including their heads, their pocketbooks, and their beer!" I, Lanoo, add: "Maybe we ourselves appear 'flat' to beings from higher dimensions."

The three-dimensional world [s].

Bug in a hollow
spheric shell.
Finite and bounded.

Bugs in a group
Finite and unbounded.

Einstein wants us to assume now that the bug is in empty space, with himself [the bug] as the only occupant. Inside a hollow, spheric shell, the bug's three-dimensional world will be finite and bounded. Finite because the sphere is finite and bounded because the bug cannot keep going in a straight line indefinitely but will be barred by the inside wall of the spheric shell. But at least now, being in a 3-dimensional world, the bug can move up and down AND forward, backward and sideways. In order to construct a finite and UNBOUNDED hypothetical 3-dimensional world, we assume now that the bug lives with a whole family of bugs in a space without physical boundaries nor barriers. Let us further assume that the bugs are VERY MASSIVE. Then none of them will leave or will be able to leave the group because the gravitational attraction of the group as a whole on each bug will prevent it [!].^{*} Furthermore, since the gravitational attraction is so strong, light rays will not be able to leave the mass of bugs either [!]. Thus, even if a bug looks off in the direction of space beyond the group, his line of sight will curve back toward the group, always producing "bugs in his eyes," and he will never be able to see beyond the group.^{} Their world is finite since the size of the group as a whole is finite and the group constitutes their world. If we leave [according to Einstein's theory] the bug alone to roam all by himself in an infinite space without any gravitational [there is that word again] masses or other forces to hinder him, then the bug would live in an UNBOUNDED and INFINITE 3-dimensional world.

^{*} Correct: This is ONE of the occult reasons why we can only see what we are [down here] namely matter. There is a world around us right here and now but we [unless we have] have not aware of it.

^{} Impossible, because masses do not attract each other. Put to object in a room with no gravitation. Do they drift towards each other? No. If some liquids do then it is because of their chemical [monadic] cohesion.

-1220/33-

The question remains: Was Einstein right or wrong? Answer: He was not all right and he was not all wrong. He was a bit of everything and does not at all deserve the bashing he is getting now from all sides. One thing is for sure, you cannot explain the nature of the first and second dimension with the help of a bug or a graphic. A bug or any other visible object, which includes a graphic, is 3-dimensional. To transfer any 3-dimensional object into the one- or two-dimensional world or even just to use it as an abstract graphic example is absolutely impossible. One-dimensional worlds can only be analyzed by one-dimensional energies, 2-dimensional worlds by 2-dimensional energies and so forth. It is as Dr. Purucker and others say: "Albert Einstein's premises are wrong and with them [almost] everything that follows from them." That is why his theories mainly don't work. Not even on paper, as The Book of Light proves. Another error is to maintain that in a 2-dimensional world everything is flat, because it has no height, but just length and breadth. Show me a flat object with no height. Something with no height but only length and breadth would be INVISIBLE which leads us slowly and almost unnoticed to what a dimension, ANY dimension really is... Flat means just "having little depth or thickness" and not at all NO depth or thickness. That is why no object, even not a bug, can experience the 1- or 2nd-dimension, for sure not as in the demonstrated graphics. Furthermore: I consider even a line not to be something 2-dimensional but 3-dimensional. The same with a point. Because both, point and line, have extensions to all sides, hence they are, like everything else, at least 3-dimensional, no matter what they teach you in school. EVERYTHING with an atomic structure is automatically at least 3-dimensional, because even the smallest nucleus has extensions to all sides, as minimal as they may be. A ONE- or TWO-dimensional "object" would have to be something nonmaterial or with no atomic structure which leads us directly to the correct definition of The Book of Light of what a dimension, ANY dimension, really is. First of all: Every object, and I mean visible object, is a fullblown SEVEN-DIMENSIONAL THING. But for now we are only able to achieve length, breadth and height. Again: Think of length and breadth but NO height. And then go beyond it [after you have intensely concentrated on it]. Meditate on it. What you experience then is, or comes close to, the 2nd-dimension. The nature of all other dimensions is also revealed in The Book of Light. Concentrate on it, go beyond, meditate on it and UNDERSTAND. AUM.

-1220/34-

^{*} in truth 7-dimensional

Albert Einstein could not solve the problem because he did not have the ESOTERIC KEY to it. This key tells us: There is nothing really existing. Everything is just an illusionary, and therefore temporary, state of consciousness. Especially this material world with all its ever-changing forms. Oh Lahoo, this planet is built of MENTAL and ASTRAL substance of OUR OWN MENTAL AND ASTRAL BODIES.^{*} Later it condensed into the globe we now know. Nevertheless: OUR PLANET EARTH IS [like the Moon prior to it] MAN-MADE - a product of pure human mental [Mānasa putras] and astral [Lunar pitris] and also spiritual matter.

^{*} although there was also cosmic matter [Aether] involved.

-1220/37-

But, oh Laozi, Mind was prior to Matter. Or: We received Mind first, and that is why Mind wants to, and shall, in the end always rule over matter [which is nothing but LOWEST Mental Monads...]. But be it Mind, Spirit or Matter, they all are... CONSCIOUSNESS.

As to the bug-theory: It really hurts. Because what they did was to pull a bug through three dimensions. A procedure which no bug would survive and which would call any animal activist on the plane. Oh Laozi, never lose your humor, otherwise you risk insanity in this world. AUM. GLORY to the Book of Light.

where Einstein and Newton were right.

Newton was right and didn't even know it. He considered the universe as consisting of a finite amount of matter. That is correct, since there are only finite amounts of monads in the Universe [while it makes no difference that no computer could count them]. But we as material physical bodies shall always see and meet matter, no matter how far into space we shall travel. Only when we would CONSCIOUSLY cast off our physical body we would come a step closer to the true boundaries of this Universe. The boundaries are called THE RING PASS NOT. Finally, after having cast off the astro-body we come another step closer to the frontier of the Universe. You don't reach this frontier by moving to the outside but by moving towards INSIDE of you. What if you come too close to the end of the Universe? The Lipika shall throw you back into the physical world. But what happens when I travel through space in a direct line?

Einstein explains it correctly: It is like you are on the surface of a sphere and you move on it, never leaving that surface. That comes closest to what happens when you leave Earth and go into space. Sooner or later you shall return to Earth, but then you would not know it because then Earth would not exist any more but its successor-chain. To conclude from this, that

* But not necessarily at the same place, because the whole solar system would have moved.

space has to be curved, is not true. It also has nothing to do with the ability of gravitational masses to deflect light rays. To live in a material Universe is like being locked up in a room. You can move as much and wherever you want in that room but you shall never leave it. An object of matter [a physical body for instance] is bound to a material Universe, like a reflection is caught in a mirror. When in your Astro-body you are locked up in another room, but you can now see the room you were locked in before even from outside. Again: The more you go inside, the more you reach towards the boundaries of the Universe until you reach [if so] "The Ring pass not", from whence you are thrown back into the perfect illusion. But as long as you are in the material Universe, you are like a hamster on his treadmill. The hamster just THINKS that he is moving but he is not. Thus motion as we understand it is simply not existing. Instead of saying that you fly in a spaceship through space, you might as well say that Space travels past you, or THROUGH you. Einstein was right in saying that all motion is relative. In other words: When a car passes you on the highway, you might as well say, that compared to, or in relation to all that which moves in the Universe, you and your car are driving backwards and the other car is standing still. Albert Einstein's error was to conclude from that correct theory of relativity, that motion only exists in relation to or relative to something else. That is not true. It is only true on the physical plane or in the physical Universe. ABSOLUTE MOTION is ABSTRACT MOTION and the cause and rootless root of everything. It is always there, even during pralaya. But at the period of activity or during Mahā-Manvantara this abstract motion which is eternal and secondless becomes, or causes, atomic and molecular motion [first etheric than physical, etc.]. And because ABSOLUTE MOTION EXISTS, there is even (and especially) on the physical plane not one speck of matter without motion. Once we understand [by studying The Book of Light]

-1220/40-

-1220/41-

the nature of ABSOLUTE [Abstract] motion, we understand why Einstein's theory of relativity is in itself relative, because it only works [sometimes] on the PHYSICAL PLANE. The example with the two cars shows us very clearly that velocity is of course relative too. I do not want to make any comments to the "velocity of light". Just this much: It does not exist [like gravitation] and the student of The Book of Light knows why. Since motion is relative, could we then say that it does not exist? Einstein was right: Motion does not exist. The Universe is static. They nullified his statement, because of the American astronomer Edwin P. Hubble who announced that, based on experimental evidence ["Red shifts" etc.] all other galaxies are rapidly running or drifting away from us. Therefore they concluded that the Universe is expanding. I repeat: Motion is not existing. But the Universe IS CONTRACTING [and not expanding as Hubble thought]. But it is not motion which expands or contracts the Universe and gives it the APPEARANCE or illusion of motion, it is THE EXPANDING CON-

* For instance: When you think of China, from here that is less relative and more real than if you would ride to China on a bike.

-1220/42-

SCIOUSNESS OF UNIVERSAL MIND which results on the PHYSICAL plane in the illusion of motion. In other words: YES, motion exists, but just as a Māyā or illusion on the physical plane. In Truth it is Universal Mind or CONSCIOUSNESS which moves, resulting in atomic and molecular motion on the physical plane. THAT is the reason for the saying that "THOUGHTS ARE THINGS." And it was Albert Einstein who said it. If a Genius like him would have had The Book of Light available he could have saved the world. Thoughts are things. For instance: Every thought that you think is experienced by the cells of your brain as motion or as an electrochemical reaction. But that motion in the brain is relative. If ANYTHING the THOUGHT is real. And that thought is a sub-version of ABSOLUTE or ABSTRACT MOTION as exhaustively defined throughout The Book of Light. Is everything in the Universe contracting? No. The whole Universe is contracting, but there are rings inside of rings and cycles.

* That is why we can say that motion exists and does not exist at the same time. Oh Laozi, Parabrahm is... immutable.

in cycles, and while the whole Universe is contracting on its way back to BRAHMAN ["who" is INHALING] there are almost endless many galaxies and solar systems born and dying [expanding and contracting]. But they all are on the way back to Brahman. Thus a galaxy can expand and contract at the same time, AUM.

I don't want to go any deeper into, for instance, the Unified Field Theory, since it is based on, or deals with, gravitational attraction, which, according to The Book of Light, does not even exist. Einstein spent the last twenty-five years of his life trying to solve the problem. But his premises were wrong. Words have power. He should have dropped the term "Gravitational pull" and used [and studied] instead of that "Monadic cohesion" and "Electromagnetic power" [a rotating magnet inside of the Earth, causing the "gravitational pull"]. Thus Newton's equation 8 does not compute.

$$F = \frac{G m m'}{d^2}$$

Force does not equal the gravitational constant times the two masses of two objects, divided by the distance² between them.

-1220/44-

Equation 10 comes much closer to the truth, since it deals with two unlike electric charges. The whole secret of the true nature of "gravitation" as taught in The Book of Light is revealed in equation 10, but nobody seems to make use of it. Equation 10 is Esoteric, more esoteric than even Coulomb* might have thought. Because:

$$F = \frac{C q q'}{d^2}$$

Introduce instead of F "attracting force" and you receive: Attracting Force [on any object on Earth] equals A constant times the two amounts of negative [q] and positive [q'] charge divided by the distance² between them. Another formula, equation 11, leads even closer to the true nature of "gravity" since it deals with North and South Pole though the true magnetic nature of North and South Pole are not correctly analyzed by that formula. However, here it is: $F = \frac{K M M'}{d^2}$. M is the pole strength of the North magnetic pole, M' the pole strength of the South magnetic pole, and the distance between them and k another constant, different from the previous G and C from equations 8 and 10. Let me make it clear: The teachings of The Book of Light, concerning the true nature of "Gravitation", and that it is in truth an electromagnetic force, are not new at all as proven by equation 8, 10 and 11. Science agrees that "gravitational" forces are forces of ATTRACTION only, but electric and magnetic forces can be of attraction and [or] repulsion. Why don't they [science] go all the way and admit that gravitational forces simply do not exist, but ATTRACTION AND REPULSION EXIST? There was never anything else. Our whole Universe is built on ABSOLUTE MOTION turning from ABSTRACT MOTION into ATOMIC and MOLECULAR MOTION whose nature is ATTRACTION AND REPULSION [like Spirit is attracted to matter and vice versa]. We have been magnetized throughout millions of years by this huge magnet called Earth. THAT is why we don't fall into space.

* it's discoverer 1736-1806

But no matter how imperfect, the Unified Field Theory is a first step into the right direction, for it is an attempt to deduce ALL the physical phenomena from a few simple fundamental principles. These principles, or this principle is ABSOLUTE ABSTRACT MOTION, whose law [when in manifestation] is now revealed in The Book of Light. The student knows what holds a nucleus together. It is THE MONAD. What does science think prevents the Atom from exploding? They call it NUCLEAR FORCES holding the nuclear particles together. This power or force is considered by science to be much stronger than for instance the COULOMB-forces. Instead of using their UNIFIED FIELD THEORY correctly which would unavoidably lead to the "Unified Monad" they drift from SCIENCE into science-fiction, imagining NUCLEAR FIELDS analogous to Gravitational fields. There is that word again, like a haunting ghost: GRAVITATION. They don't see the forest because of all the different trees. Since they have trapped themselves by analyzing gravitational forces as forces of attraction only they think it's possible that such a thing as a REPULSIVE gravitational force could exist. But there cannot be only repulsion or only attraction. Where there is one, there is the other. Einstein says it himself: Actio $\hat{=}$ Reactio, or Action equals Reaction, which is a perfect way to demonstrate the eternal law of KARMA. Be careful, oh scientist. A monad is a powerful thing. Don't play with it by throwing particles at a nucleus like a child throws stones just intending to destroy a window but thus maybe killing somebody who stands in the room. Live the Life, study The Book of Light and in a not too faraway future you might be able to drive your car, light your room, do your phonecalls, fly a plane, and all this just by using the energy of your own Aura or ETHERIC BODY. Glory to The Book of Light. AUM.

EINSTEIN AND TIME

Time and space are, according to Einstein AND The Book of Light inseparable and interdependent. But that is only true in relation with 3-dimensional space. On the Astral plane which is the 4th *in order to split it.

-1220/48-

dimension, things are different. Later or "higher" on the mental plane, they are even more different until up to the Monadic plane. Each of these planes has its own dimensions and time on these planes is not anymore what it is down here in the three-dimensional world. The relation between "time" and "space" on these planes is revealed throughout The Book of Light. A hint: To experience a traumatic accident emotionally [or on the 4th dimension] is entirely different than what actually happens. The experience of time is often that of slow motion, etc.. The true nature of time and space in all dimensions is fully revealed in The Book of Light. The Book of Light begins where Einstein ends.

Is all motion really relative?

There is a, though little known, heavy theoretical blow to the whole theory that motion is relative. It is up to the student to judge himself. I mentioned the example with two cars, one passing the other, and I said, that we might as well declare that the faster car is, compared to all motion in the universe, standing while the slower one is driving backwards. Let us leave this theory for a while and concentrate on another one: We assume we have two twins, one of whom makes a trip to a distant star and back while the other remains on earth. We further assume the star to be at a distance of four light years from the earth and that the rocket twin travels at an average velocity of four fifths that of light. The total time for his trip, then, will be about 10 years, earth time. Equation 6 $t' = \frac{3t}{5}$ shows us that, on the average, time for the rocket twin moves only $\frac{3}{5}$ as fast as it does for the earth twin. In the rocket only 6 years have passed. Landing back on Earth the rocket twin will find himself 4 years younger than his Twin Brother. Now back to experiment one, where the faster car stands actually still and the slower one drives backwards, according to the theory that all motion is relative. If that is so, we could also assume, that it is not the rocket flying away from Earth, but also Earth flying away from the rocket. Or: Earth would then travel at a total distance of eight light years out at an average velocity of about $\frac{4}{5}$ that of light, just as the rocket did. Equation 6 makes that possible, just replace v by $-v$. Since v is squared in the equation the result would not be changed. If that is so the whole mankind would be 4 years younger than the person in the rocket, which would mean, that, every time we send a rocket into space we all would become slightly younger. Which is, of course, not the case. Obviously motion is not so relative that we can say: when a rocket leaves Earth, Earth leaves also the rocket. If that is not so, then the car-experiment or theory is shaky too. Then what? Is all motion relative or not? I leave it up to the student. But THINK, oh Lanoo, isn't RELATIVE only a word and itself just ... relative? AUM.

THE MYSTERY OF THE U.F.O.S

U.F.O.s. or "UNIDENTIFIED FLYING OBJECTS" were there BILLIONS of years before and since, and shall be there BILLIONS of years from now. Yet they do not exist. They just make themselves visible to us as they MATERIALIZE for the purpose of investigation and information on this our earth chain and its FOURTH globe, our visible EARTH. So what are U.F.O.s? The explanation is as simple, as people try to make it complicated. There are and have been and shall be millions and billions of superion BEINGS, drifting through space, which means through our planetary system as well as THROUGH the earth and its chain, and also through OTHER chains.
* Like all other visible planets of our Solar System actually FOURTH GLOBES.

Some of these beings are PUKKA, which are liberated MONADS, roaming through the UNIVERSE, and others have work to do, when THE LAW calls them. All of them have one thing in common: They have no physical body. Some have astro-etheric bodies, which could be called a state between energy and matter, or are built of one atomic layer, and others just exist as PURE CONSCIOUSNESS, though not [yet] in NIKUANA. They are PUKKA, AUM. Those who still have work to do before they can rest in the upcoming PRALAYA, show sometimes show interest in our affairs, in order to understand us better and thus to be able to help us without overstepping the KARMA, that has to be worked out by OURSELVES. So they decide from time to time to materialize down here on earth and to live among us in human bodies. And since EVERYTHING down here only works through vehicles, they need a vehicle, when they arrive on this planet, sometimes in groups of THOUSANDS. The vehicles they use are Spaceships. But they NEVER constructed these SPACESHIPS, they just "thought" them, the moment they entered our PRALAYATI or material plane. In three words: U.F.O.'s are KIRIYASAKTI.
Or: Since these beings from other chains and planets are [compared to us] omniscient, they * in the sense of MOLECULAR STRUCTURE.
AND physical bodies.

-1229-

materialize themselves AND their space ships with THOUGHTPOWER, or KIRIYASAKTI. They also do it with THE SPEED of thought, which is NOT faster than LIGHT SPEED, because LIGHT HAS NO SPEED, it just IS, and I do not care, what "SCIENCE" thinks about it. Behold, a VENUS-MAN*, creating first a Spaceship around himself...

...and then materializing inside the spaceship.

-1230-

When they leave us again, they do not need their bodies and ships anymore and dissolve, or [although it sounds contradictory] CONCENTRATE EVERYTHING, bodies and spaceships, into a * of consciousness, which seems to us like SUPERSPEED. What is the FUEL for their vehicles? It is the same energy they are made of: THOUGHTPOWER. Just to THINK of a place is enough for "them" to move the SPACESHIP to whatever distance and into whatever dimension they like. For instance: If "they" decide to take a trip into the earth chain, but on 3 different levels [for instance globe A, D] and E, they program their consciousness prior to that with the data of these 3 planes; and when they switch from A to D and then to E, they react with their THOUGHTS, or VISUALIZATION, or KIRIYASAKTI to the correspondent plane, which results in bodies and vehicles to carry a greater amount of bodies [or also single bodies]; and these Spaceships are called by us "UNIDENTIFIED" FLYING OBJECTS. Actually you can call them U.F.O. or IDENTIFIED FLYING OBJECTS, because they are as what they appear to us, they are an ILLUSION, AUM.
* That is one of the reasons for the fact, that aboard an UFO you never shall find much "complicated" Technology. They mostly have crystals as channels for THOUGHT POWER. That's it. They THINK OF A PLACE - and ARE THERE.

The FOOD LOBBY, in cooperation with the GOVERNMENT, decides to create a TRILLION DOLLAR BUSINESS: HUMAN DISEASE RESEARCH. But how can you research something, which mostly does not exist; DISEASE. The average American was quite HEALTHY during those years. The answer was: "We have to make them sick." The FOOD COMPANY came up with the idea of the century: HOMOGENIZED MILK. They prolonged the shelf life of milk, by stirring it in large blenders and passing it under huge pressure through fine filters, that breaks the FAT PORTION OF THE MILK INTO SMALL GLOBULES, KEEPING THE FAT FROM SEPARATING AND RISING TO THE TOP. THE MONEY BARONS knew that the ENZYME XO or XANTHINE OXIDASE would cause, after years of consuming, ATHEROSCLEROSIS and HEART-DISEASE. They, the FOOD-LOBBY, had also another plan, the moment ATHEROSCLEROSIS and HEART ATTACK would appear. They would explain, that it is because of too much CHOLESTEROL, knowing that they would be backed up by scientists, or should I say, by those, who prostitute their SCIENCE FOR MONEY! THE BOOK OF LIGHT EXPLAINS UNDER "HEALTH and YOU", why MILK, HOMOGENIZED MILK, IS THE NUMBER ONE KILLER IN THIS COUNTRY.

THE "EXAGGERATION" OF THE HOLOCAUST.

OVER 1,000,000 JEWS died in Europe in the Concentration Camps of AUSCHWITZ, MAJDAK, TREBLINKA, SOBIBOR, CHELMNO, BIRSECK, BERGEN-BELSEN, DACHAU, NORDHAUSEN and others, during the second world war. BUT: There was NO German program to exterminate Jews. Their death was mainly caused by epidemics in the overcrowded labour camps, especially towards the END of the war. The death of over one million Jews was ALSO caused by the breakdown of German transportation and not enough supply of food and medicine to the camps. But again: There was no intention to kill the Jews. They were sent to these camps for wartime labour, and the German interest was to keep them ALIVE. NEVERTHELESS they were treated like animals by the NAZI GUARDS, and many prisoners in these camps were killed by the NAZI GUARDS, or died from medical experiments on the living, NOT ANAESTHETIZED, BODY. Cremation and gassing was meant mostly for the DEAD bodies, although we can not exclude the gassing of living

JEWS, ESPECIALLY towards the END of the war. But the PLAN was always, to get rid of the JEWS by transporting them after the war to, for instance, RUSSIA. Books and printed lectures, proving the TRUTH of these facts, are:

In spite of all these proofs, that show clearly, there was never an intention to exterminate Jews, they WERE ABUSED as SLAVES for WAR LABOUR and over 1 million of them DIED, because of that abuse, and they deserve every penny of reparations they received from the incarnations of their torturers. As to the Palestine problem: NO LAND BELONGS TO NOBODY. WE ARE ALL LIMBS OF ONE BODY, AND WE HAVE TO WORK OUT OUR PROBLEMS TOGETHER AND NOT AGAINST EACH OTHER. AUM TO THE BOOK OF LIGHT, SAVIOUR OF MANKIND. AUM, JEROME SWENTAR.

Master Djwhal Khul about the Jews.

The outstanding evidence of the Law of Cause and Effect is the Jewish Race. ALL NATIONS PROVE THIS LAW, but I choose to refer to the Hebrew Peoples because their history is so well known and their future and their destiny are subjects of worldwide universal concern. The Jews have always had a symbolic significance; they sum up in themselves - as a nation - down the ages - the depths of human evil and the heights of human divinity. Their aggressive history as narrated in the Old Testament is on a par with present-day German accomplishment, yet Christ was a Jew and it was the Hebrew race which produced Him. Let this never be forgotten. The Jews were great aggressors; they despoiled the Egyptians and they took the Promised Land at the point of sword, sparing neither man, woman nor child. Their religious history has been built around a materialistic Jehovah, possessive, greedy and endorsing and encouraging aggression. Their history is symbolic of the history of all aggressors, rationalising themselves into the belief that they are carrying out divine purpose, wresting away from people their property in a spirit of self-defense and finding some reason, adequate to them, to excuse the iniquity of their action. Palestine was taken by the Jews because it was "a land flowing with milk and honey," and the claim was made that the act was undertaken in obedience to divine command. Later, the symbolism gets most interesting. They divided into two halves: the Israelites with headquarters at Samaria, and the Jews [meaning two or three special tribes out of the twelve] locating around Jerusalem. Darius van through their religious beliefs; they were schooled by the Sadducees or the Pharisees, and these two groups were in constant conflict. Christ came as a member of the Jewish race and they renounced Him.

Today the law is working, and the Jews are paying the price, factually and symbolically, for all they have done in the past. They are demonstrating the far-reaching effects of the Law. Factually and Symbolically, they stand for culture and civilisation; factually and symbolically, they are humanity. factually and symbolically, they stand as they have ever chosen to stand, for separation. They regard themselves as the chosen people and have an innate consciousness of that high destiny, forgetting their symbolic role and that it is Humanity which is the chosen people and not one small and unimportant fraction of the race. Factually and symbolically, they long for unity and cooperation, yet know not how to cooperate; factually and symbolically, they are the "Eternal Pilgrim"; they are mankind, wandering through the mazes of the three worlds of human evolution, and gazing with longing eyes towards a promised land; factually and symbolically they resemble the mass of men, refusing to comprehend the underlying spiritual purpose of all material phenomena, rejecting the Christ within [as they did centuries ago the Christ within their borders], grasping for material good and steadily rejecting the things of the Spirit. They demand the so-called restitution of Palestine, wresting it away from those who have inhabited it for many centuries; and by their continued emphasis upon material possession they lose sight of the true solution, which is that, symbolically and factually again, they must be assimilated into all the nations, and fused with all the races, thus demonstrating recognition of the one Humanity. It is interesting to note, that the Jews who inhabited southern Palestine, and whose chief city was Jerusalem, have succeeded in doing this and have fused with and been assimilated by the British, the Dutch and the French in a way that the Israelites, ruled from Samaria, have never done. I commend this to you for your consideration. If the Jewish race would recall, therefore, their high symbolic destiny, and if the rest of humanity would see themselves in the Jewish people, and if both groups would emphasise the fact of human stock and cease thinking of themselves in terms of national and racial units, the karma of humanity would radically change from the retributive karma of the present to the recompensing good karma of the future. Regarding this question from the long range vision [looking backward historically as well as forward hopefully], the problem is one to which the Jews themselves must make the larger contribution. They have never yet faced candidly and honestly [as a race] the problem of why the many nations, from the time of the Egyptians, have neither liked nor wanted them. It has always been the same down the centuries. Yet there must be some reason, inherent in the people themselves, when the reaction is so general and universal. Their approach to their direful problem has been one of supplication, or of distressed complaint, or of unhappy despair. Their demand has been for the Gentile nations to put the matter right, and many Gentiles have attempted to do so. Until, however, the Jews themselves face up to the situation and admit that there may be for them the working out of the retributive aspect of the Law of Cause and Effect, and until they endeavour to ascertain what it is in them, as a race, which has initiated their ancient and dire fate, this basic world issue will remain as it has been since the very night of time. That within the race there are and have been great, good, just and spiritual men is unalterably true. A generalisation is never a complete expression of the truth. But, viewing the problem of the Jews in time and space, in history and today, the points which I have made will bear careful consideration by the Jews. What I have said in no way mitigates the guilt of those who have so sorely abused the Jews. You have a proverb, have you not? that "two blacks do not make a white." The behaviour of the nations towards the Jews, culminating in the atrocities of the second quarter of the twentieth century, have no excuse. The law must inevitably work. Though much that has happened to the Jews originated in their past history and in their pronounced attitude of separateness and nonassimilability, and in their emphasis upon material good, yet the agents who have brought the evil Karma upon them equally incur the retributive aspect of the same law; the situation has now assumed the form of a vicious circle of error and wrong doing, of retribution and revenge, and in view of this the time must come when together the nations will confer upon this problem, and together they will cooperate to bring to an end the wrong attitudes on BOTH SIDES... The Jewish problem will not be solved by taking possession of Palestine, by plaint and demand and by financial manipulations. That would be but the prolongation of ancient wrong and material possessiveness. The problem will be solved by the willingness of the Jew to conform to the civilisation, the cultural background and the standards of living of the nation to which - by the fact of birth and education - he is related and with which he should assimilate. It will come by the relinquishment of pride of race and of the concept of selectivity; it will come by renouncing dogmas and customs which are intrinsically obsolete and which create points of constant irritation to the matrix within which the Jew finds himself; it will come when selfishness in business relations and the pronounced manipulative tendencies of the Heb-
